Disane

Disane is an island located west of Khacari, and south of Kaer. Everything on the island is based on the city of Disanteldir and mining, as it is the primary reason why this location is inhabited.

Disanteldir

Disanteldir is a small town on Disane island. It was built centuries ago by the Sain clan, to facilitate iron and stone excavation, and to have a buffer area to defend itself from saphtri forces.

Erds

Erd

We are the natives of Disane, Khacari and Kaer. Our destiny is to cultivate the Garden and live within the Wheel.

Foreign Race (regular response)

Erds live in Disane, Khacari and Kaer. They seem very bound to their tradition. And they talk in funny ways.

Foreign Race (educated response)

Erds are a culture inhabiting Disane, Khacari and Kaer. They are bound to those places and their tradition, which they themselves call “caring of the Garden”. Their language sounds a bit strange to the outlanders.

Kaer

Erd

It is our home and garden. Kaer lies north of Disane and Khacari. It's densely covered with trees and hard to traverse wherever there's no maintained roads.

Foreign Race

Kaer is a big island north of Disane. It is dense land covered with dark forests for most part, inhabited by erds and kehts for most of the time.

Keht

Scholar

Kehts are believed to originate from cursed spirits of Kaer's forest, who were living in earliest times together – or even before – erds settled on the island.

Little Advice

Universal

Truths are told by false prophets. There is always truth to be found, be it in lies or sincerity, but be careful with how you interpret it.

You always can find yourself lost. Try enjoying that before finding yourself. This feeling tends to not come back.

Try collecting plants. If you find yourself having a hard time paying for the services, this is a great way to earn a few coins. Mix those in the mortar into some potions. Those sell nicely, even weak ones.

Erds

Some laugh at our time. But they do not understand how powerful truth it gives us: whatever did flow to us, is ours to keep, until it ascends to the past.

Some shall laugh at our time. But they shall not understand how powerful truth it shall give us: whatever shall flow to us, shall be ours to keep, until it ascended to the past.

Some will laugh at our time. But they won't understand how powerful truth it will give us: whatever will flow to us, will be ours to keep, until it ascended to the past.

Relations are like coins in the purse – you stick to some people as coins lie on each other. But this is never permanent, each shake can brush them off. It can also bring them back to you again.

Each breath belongs to the past.

Reality is an illusion. The truth is fluid, and so is our existence. So teach yourself the art of swimming.

Foreign Race

Do not ask erds about saphtris or baedoorians, and saphtris about erds. Their history had tense moments.. and still have.
